

Abstract

The process for bidder-financed packet-switched telecommunication partner system for electronic commerce and account of premiums for partners is a special service of an Internet Service Provider, where the said service enables the customers to access free of charge all the offered services of the sellers and bidders of services by means of telecommunication and additionally the turnover made by electronic commerce is rewarded automatically with telecommunication services as electronic premium.